HE WAS ACQUITTED

EX-CHIEF OF POLICE BURROWS FOUND TO BE NEGLIGENT ONLY.

Commissioner Shearman Discharged Him Without Much Comment. Clyde Mattox Escapes Through the Bars Again to Prove That He Did It Before.

The case of the United States against C. E. Burrows is ended and the defendant discharged from the obligation of his bond.

As every reader of the EAGLE knows, charges were preferred against him by United States Marshal Perry for suffering Clyde Mattox to escape from the county jail while he was turnkey.

The hearing was before Commissioner Shearman and was begun yesterday morning in the federal court room. The government was represented by Mr. Perry and Colonel Heskell, special examiner of the department of justice. The defendant was represented by W. E. Stanley.

The evidence occupied the entire forenoon and two hours in the afternoon. The only thing that witnesses could not testify to clearly was the possibility of Mattox going through an opening in the barred windows of the jail less than eight inches high.

The officers repaired to the jail and had a practical demonstration of the possibility of escaping through said hole. Officers were stationed inside and outside of the jail and the bar which Clyde cut was again removed. He was turned loose in the corridor and informed that he could escape through the same opening again.

An officer stood by with a watch in hand, and when the word "go" was given, Clyde Mattox cut his way through the bars, brushed the dust off the sill, swung on the bars, struck his foot over the first, crawled down the bars of a lower window and fell into the arms of a marshal, performing the feat of escape in just one minute.

Mattox was taken to the city hall, where he was held in custody. He did it so noiselessly that his movements could not have been heard six feet away.

This convinced the officers more than all the evidence that there was no official crookedness in the Mattox escape.

THE EVIDENCE.
Deputy Marshal DeBost said in substance: "I learned about 9 o'clock that night, he said, that Clyde Mattox had made his escape. Deputy Sheriff Hays came running in and said 'Mattox is gone.' Hays wrote a number of telegrams and did everything he knew to apprehend him. I saw Mattox after he was brought back. I also examined the iron bar that had been sawed off. I could tell that the bar of iron had been partly sawed off at different times. The part that was first sawed was rusty and the other showed that it had been freshly done."

Ex-Deputy Marshal McMurry was the next witness. He stated that he did not have much to do with Mattox, but did sometimes like to guard him to and from the court house and the jail. He was one of the officers who took Mattox to the jail after his conviction. He stated that he had told Burrows to watch Mattox, that he was afraid that an attempt would be made to liberate him.

Ed Walker was put on the stand. He stated that he had been a deputy marshal and went with other deputies to deliver Mattox to the jail after his conviction. He stated that he had been with Mattox when he was taken to the jail, and that he had seen him escape through the bars.

complaint was drawn I leave the case with the commissioner for such determination as he may think proper and right. Mr. Stanley, for the defense, then said he desired to add nothing to the evidence already presented, and that he would leave the case to the jury. The United States attorney and clerk while Mr. Burrows had doubtless been careless, every one was careless and were often called upon to regret results. Commissioner Shearman then simply said that the defendant was discharged.

GARDENING FOR PROFIT.
D. J. Chatfield exhibits samples of lettuce grown in his green-house at College Hill, which are a veritable wonder for this season of the year. The heads are as large and almost as compact as a summer cabbage, he is marketing from a bed 6x100 feet, several baskets daily, and expects to yield him $100. There are seventy-two lots or beds of this size in one acre of land. It shows what may be taken from the soil if properly treated. At this rate it would pay to put one acre of each quarter section under glass, leaving the remainder for game preserves.

Mr. Chatfield had fine success last year with celery, and will plant largely the coming season. He says we have all the natural qualities for the growth of this valuable product.

OFFICIAL CALL.
The Original Notice of the Convention Properly Amended.

When the central committee published last week the call for a county convention, they had not then perfected the arrangements as required by the resolutions agreed upon by the candidates and adopted by the committee.

The following is now the official call including the necessary amendments to the original call:

"Be it resolved by the Republican central committee of Sedgewick county, a convention of Republicans of Sedgewick county be called to meet on Saturday, the 17th day of February, 1894, at 11 o'clock a.
